

THE HAPPENING
VOLUME 3 1970
WESTERN PIEDMONT
COMMUNITY COLLEGE
MORGANTON, N.C.

THE COVER

An internal occurrence, a revelation of knowledge and of learning.
A season of thought, resurrection of the mind and soul—a HAPPENING.

Unstained, rose-white purity of youth—unmarred and untouched by the world.

Resolute as a diamond, almost god-like in its innocence—yet so quickly defiled.

Youth—the springtide of life enjoying but a short epoch of existence, slipping away, never to return.

As easy to catch the wind as to recapture youth—you cannot turn around, you can only look back.

Spring of life—adolescence—a time of learning, searching, succeeding and failing without really knowing why.

You must now contend with the stronger currents in the river of life swept far from the bay of innocence.

Kneel before the fountain of knowledge and drink your fill, quench your thirsting mind.

Revel in the essence of its purity that your mind may be as pure.

The world is often cruel and may strike out causing only torment for others, but always themselves.

Knowledge—the peaceful weapon, far more effective than any tool of death devised by man.

Knowledge for advantage or harm—it is for each one to make his choosing.

Use your knowledge, do not cast it to the wayside and ignore it.

Let it flow from you as the rays of the sun to every darkened corner, regardless of its remoteness.

Walk in the paths of wisdom and understanding though strait the course it follows.

Do this with complete faith in one and all and no obstacle will be too great to overcome.

Education—flowing forth freely from the mind as the rays of the sun
To bring forth warmth and peace, bitterness and death, at the discretion of the conscience.

Opportunity opens wide its arms to embrace the cultivated mind.

To garden it with care that it might bring forth worthy fruits and more after its kind.

All things must work toward ultimate good though a tempest may be nigh.

Wisdom and knowledge shall prevail outshining the darkened clouds of misfortune.

Build your foundation on the solid rock—education, forever to stand steadfast and true.

Build on the solid rock of education, not on the sand of chance for these are soon swept away.

Step forward and be counted, do what you can no matter how small your portion may be.

For as many drops of water make up a mighty sea so shall many small deeds make for a monumental contribution.

Set forth your ideals without fear or resignation, that others may be made aware of your convictions.

Be tolerant of the values of others as they should be of yours.

Education—a device for salvation or destruction and it is up to the people to make their preferences.

Without people knowledge would be but a senseless conglomeration of signs and symbols on paper, nothing more.

Merely taking up space. Of what value is this? None whatsoever.

For knowledge to have purpose it must be learned, used and applied—by people.

It is people who breathe life into knowledge—without them it would be but a worthless hulk.

Most people just can't read!!!!

The Metrecal for lunch, bunch!!

Eat your din, din!!!

What ya got there, Mr. Boyd??!

It looks like a liver condition!!!

It's for you, Dr. Blank.

Look Mom, no cavities!!!

Yes, Martha!!!

N-O-W???

Sock it to 'um!!!

"Little Dunkie"

Graceful!?!

The line-up.

Who's Who's What??!

Yea, "A" in Math 103!!

The Red team won the toss and elects to receive.

Now, let me say this about that!!!

Oh! No! I've heard that one, Bob!!!!

I dreamed of this???????

Out! Out! Out!

Ho! Ho! Ho!

"Sneaky D"

Come on Baby light my fire!!!!

For Whom the Bell Tolls!!!!

Oh! Those Monday mornings!!!!

The Happiness—
 The Joys—
 The Heartbreaks—
 The Hours—
 The pitfalls and the comebacks—
 The strengths and the struggles—
 The Happening—

Without us; it would not be here,
 Without you; we could not start—

This is our creation,
 And we present it to you
 With our sincere trust,
 That you appreciate it too!

Our presence was there,
 By the pictures we took.
 But you were blind of the task,
 In giving this book.

No sleep could prevail,
 Or let us be hit by the tiresome hours—
 But no one would quit.

The Happening—
 It is the past for you to remember,
 And we remembered you.

(A new word has been added to the language of skiing.)

Beechkommer

(bēch'kūmmer)

Not to be confused with beachcomber. 1. Any one of the growing number of skiers who has tasted the sheer delight of Beech Mountain slopes. 2. Any skier who has visited Stowe or Aspen and is still looking for something else.

Beech Mountain is that something else.

In fact, you may be a Beechkommer and not even know it. Perhaps you've never skied, but you've always wanted to. In that case, it's time to buckle up your boots at Beech for a day—or a week.

Beech Mountain makes it hard to say no. The slopes at Beech range from gentle hills for beginners to challenging downhill runs for even the most seasoned expert. Nature gives Beech 100 inches of snow a season. If that's not enough, 62 snow guns can lay down up to eight inches a night. The lifts can handle over 9,000 skiers per hour.

Willi Falger, former Downhill Racing Champion of Austria, is Director of the Ski School. Along with his wife Kitty and their crew of certified instructors, Willi uses the Modified Austrian system of teaching, acknowledged to be the simplest and quickest way to master the basic techniques.

At Beech Mountain you'll find shops that feature the latest in ski fashions and equipment, restaurants where you can get a bite to eat and something warm to drink, and, if you're not up for tackling the mountain, observation decks where you can relax and watch the adventurous set swoosh by. Beech even has a nursery available by the hour or by the day. And each night the mountainside rings with Bavarian music and good fun.

If you're wondering what being a Beechkommer is really like, there's only one way to find out: come to Beech!
